

The meaning of life

Dearest friends, this is a special moment.

Your souls commune in light under the blessings of the Almighty.

The blue sky reflects the anchors of sunlight upon the Earth.

Flowers spread their thousand colours all around

All simple expressions of love,

So that the hearts who love each other may be anchored by eternal, beautiful nature.

The union of your souls exchanging loving energy and joy,

Makes the pathway smoother to build the dream of a home

The words come down from your minds and turn into artwork on your lips

When you declare your true, purest love

Reading into each other's' eyes that which only you two can understand

There is sound in the air, yet we cannot hear it

The sound of bells

Bringing a sparkle to the celebration in your hearts

With the sweet ringing of songs

A surprise kiss

The bride

The groom

The pathway

Hand in hand

Closely embracing

On your way home

Step by step

It is the meaning of life.
